market at the present time. Securities held firm to-day on exceedingly light trading, the trend during the greater part of the session being distinctly upward. The movement was most prominent in the specialities, such issues as Bethiehem Steel common and preferred being most conspicuous, with gains of 17-8 and 16-8 respectively. The speculative leaders gamen tractionally for the most part, although advances of a point or more were recorded by Canadian Pacine, Illinois Central, Rock Island preferred, Chicago and Northwestern and Great Northern Ore certificates. United States Steel was consistently strong, despite the resumption to-morrow of hearings by the congressional investigating committee.

News from abroad was altogether favorable, the various European capitals reporting a more hopeful feeling regarding the Moroccan situation. This condition found immediate reliection in London, where Eritish securities and consols rebounded sharply from their depression of the previous week. London's market for our securities denoted improvement and special strength in Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific.

strength in Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific.
Developments at home included the publication of the Standard Oil circular to its stockholders, announcing the intention of the company to comply with the mandate of the United States Supreme Court, which ordered the dissolution of that corporation. The circular refers to the various subsidiary companies affected by the reorganization, and states that "ratable" distribution will be made. It is expected that the shares of the many companies to take the place of those of the parent company will be ready for issuance by December 1. Standard Oil shares sold at 655 on the "curb" to-day, compared with 650 last Saturday.

Soveral notes to members of his family, business associates and creditors were found on his desk, indicating several hours' busy work. He was seated at his desk when he fired the shot with a 38-calibre pistol.

Mr. Barnard was fifty-three years old, and leaves a wife and two children. He was forced into bankruptcy some time ago, but later re-established business in Granby Street. He made an effort to kill himself by gas poisening about six months ago.

Lancaster, Va., July 31.—The Baptists have begun their annual camp meeting at Wharton Grove, on the Rappahannock River, in the southern part of Lancaster county. The ample grounds are beautifully located on a picturesque point of land in the midst of a grove of native oak and pine, on the northern bank of the Rappahannock, which at this point is about five miles wide. The grounds command a splendid view of the river, and are rendered pleasant during the summer heat by the refreshing breezes that blow across this wide expanse of water. The meeting, while conducted under the auspices of the Baptist denomination, is attended and patronized by people of all shades of religious belief. The general management is in the hands of an executive committee, headed by the Rev. Frederick W. Claybrook, pastor of the Baptist Churches in that part of the county. The leading preacher is the Rev. Henry M. Wharton. D. D., of Baltimore, in whose honor the camp was named, and who has preached there at every meeting since the camp was organized, now more than twenty-rive years ago. He is assisted this year by the Rev. C. L. Jackson. D. D., of Philadelphia, and the Rev. Joseph T. Watts, of Richmond. The services are held in a large and substantial tabernacle, capable of seating several thousand people, and around it are grouped the cottages, in which many live during the ten days that the meeting is in progress.
